

Voyager Legend™

The next generation of a legendary headset

Our best ever Bluetooth® headset

Target customer

They fully embrace the headset philosophy. They are extremely heavy users of headsets as they need to keep in touch via voice as their travel burden is heavy, not just cars, but trains and planes. They expect high performance and excellent noise cancelling capabilities as they are working in some of the most noisy environments and public spaces. These users want to be kept entertained while on the go and therefore want a headset capable of streaming music, podcasts, GPS and more. But performance is really the key for these users, they want the very best audio, the most comfortable design, the easiest to set up with advanced time saving features, helping them to squeeze the very most out of their day.
