Sub-address

If you have more than one SMS phone on the same line, you can use sub-addresses to separate your incoming text messages so that they only go to the phone you want.

A sub-address is simply an extra digit (e.g. 2) which the sender adds to your telephone number. You set this digit on your SMS phone so that only messages with 2 added to the number goes automatically to your phone.

The default setting is 9 which means no sub-address is set.

You will only need to change the send and receive numbers if:

- you change your SMS text message service provider
- you have a problem which requires you entering a different number

Do not change the subaddress if you only use one SMS phone on your telephone line as you will lose messages. 5799 Relate 2100 (BT Server4) 26/4/04 9-57 am Page 44 BT Relate 2100 (BT SMS Server) - Edition 5 - 23.04.04 - 5799
